.Our 'unpublished' book':

Dear parents and carers,

After a very busy first week back, half term is well and truly a distant memory! Throughout this week, all the children have enjoyed their first session with Marsden Martial Arts, and we have received some really positive feedback from yourselves.

The staff have put together a fabulous range of events for Book Week next week. We look forward to welcoming you in to school for performance poetry in KS1 and a creative writing afternoon in KS2. Please see below for dates and details of additional events. The book fair is also in school next Wednesday (3:05-4:00pm) and Thursday morning (8:15 – 8:35 am) and afternoon (3:05 – 4:00pm). Please pop in with your children to see what books you can share. Where will your purchase take you? Please remember as ever, to keep in touch with what your children are doing in school on Seesaw or the school's Twitter account at <https://twitter.com/@DunstonAcademy>. This week, the pupils in Year 6 have received an unpublished book to review from Twitter. They can't wait to take it in turns to read it and find out about the story: thank you to Mrs Shewring for getting this for them.

You will probably be aware of an internet safety issue (MOMO) that has been in the news recently. Please visit our website or Twitter feed for advice on how to keep your children safe on the internet. Appropriate discussions have taken place with pupils in school on this subject, as a significant number of pupils were aware of the issue or were asking questions about it. An information letter has also been sent home today.

Don't forget our school uniform provider has changed please visit their website to order <https://uniformshoponline.co.uk/>

Regards,
Mr Parkinson
